POOR BOARD OFFICES

All Were Filled at the Annual Meeting and Reorganization.

ARJA WILLIAMS IS COLLECTOR

T. H. Jones Chosen Treasurer for Another Term, and Five Out-door Physicians Elected and Their Salaries Fixed—The Other Officers of the Board and Home All Re-Elected.

The first regular session of the poor board for the year 1894 was called to order by Director Gibbons, President Langstaff, who has been very ill for the past three months, was present for the first time since he was taken ill. Directors T. H. Jones, W. H. Murphy, and Mr. Swan were present.

Under the head of director's report Mr. Lynett reported that he had accepted $50 from a man named Hesline in settlement of a case. He also read the report of the directors for the year, which was adopted.

Superintendent Beemer's report for December showed that the number of inmates in Hillside home Dec. 1 was 108, admitted, 13; discharged, 10. Total number of inmates Jan. 1, 105; males, 117; females, 43.

Head physician Erans reported that the number of prescriptions filled was 438; deaths, 4; sane patients, 90; insane, 48. Number in asylum Dec. 1, 131; admitted, 7; discharged, 9, remaining Jan. 1, 135. The out-door physician, Dr. Gunster, reported having visited 14 old cases, 48 new cases, made 135 visits, examined 4 insane cases.

RELIEF AGENT'S REPORT.
Mrs. George Pettigrew, relief agent, reported that she had investigated 138 out of 153 cases and found about three-fourths of them very worthy. The cases had been helped by the charitable societies.

M. R. Cavanaugh, of the Carbondale Four district, presented a bill for $130 for the care of John Loftus, whom he claimed was a charge on this district. Loftus lived here twelve years ago and has since established a residence elsewhere. The matter was referred to Director Shotten and Attorney Scragg for investigation.

Fine reported 5 old cases, 16 new ones, 11 visits made, 1 birth, 1 death.

Under the head of new business Mr. Gibbons thought that the new men's building would be too small in a few years, and that it would be better to put the women in that building and the men in the building now occupied by the women. Mrs. Swan believed as Mr. Gibbons did, but Mr. Shotten and Mr. Williams fought the project. Mr. Gibbons moved that the matter be referred to the home committee, and such action was taken.

GIVING OUT ADVERTISING.
Director Topp asked for information about publishing the annual report of the directors. He wanted to have it printed in the Free Press and Wochenblatt, and Director Shotten and Williams sustained him. Mr. Gibbons moved to amend that The Tribune, Republican, Truth and Times be added to the list of papers. Mrs. Swan seconded the motion, and it was carried by a vote of 4 to 3. Langstaff, Gibbons, Murphy and Mrs. Swan voting aye, and Shotten, Williams and Topp voting nay.

Immediately upon adjournment of the poor board, Director Gibbons moved that the board proceed to reorganize at once and Mr. Murphy was called to the chair.

Mr. Swan nominated W. S. Langstaff for president, and there being no other names mentioned he was elected by acclamation. E. J. Lynett, the present secretary, was retained in that position. Mr. Williams nominated T. H. Jones for treasurer and Mr. Gibbons placed the name of J. J. Boyle before the directors.

Mr. Jones, who was treasurer last year, was re-elected, the vote being 5 to 3 in his favor. The name of Arja Williams for collector of poor taxes was proposed by Mrs. Swan. He was the only nominee and was unanimously elected as was John F. Scragg for the position of attorney. The home officers, George W. Beemer, superintendent; Mrs. Jennie Beemer, matron; Benjamin F. Evans, resident physician, were all chosen by acclamation.

FIVE OUT-DOOR PHYSICIANS.
When the order of electing outdoor physicians was reached Director Shotten stated that he had a scheme which would be for the benefit of the poor people who were taken ill. It was to appoint five physicians and divide the district up into five sections. He would divide them in the following order: First—Wards one, two, three, first district twenty-first; second—Wards four, five, six, fourteen, fifteen, eighteen, second district twenty-first; third—Dunmore borough and Tenth ward; fourth—Wards eleven, twelve, nineteen, twenty, fifth—wards seven, eight, nine, sixteen, seventeen. He proposed to pay the physician the same amount they received before only divide it into five parts. Mr. Topp suggested that they be paid as follows: First district, $150; second district, $300; third district, $150; fourth district, $300; fifth district, $300. This was agreed upon and the elections of physicians proceeded with. It resulted as follows: First district, Dr. W. A. Dineen; second district, Dr. W. A. Paine; third district, Dr. J. R. Murphy; fourth district, Dr. Manley; fifth district, Dr. F. G. Gunster.

On motion of Mrs. Swan the salaries of all other officers were fixed at the same rate which prevailed last year.

OFFICERS OF NAY AUG COMPANY.
They Were Elected at a Meeting Held Last Evening.

At the annual election of the Nay Aug Hose company held last night the following officers were elected: President, G. R. Snydam; vice president, W. Sealey; recording secretary, W. E. Gilhool; financial secretary, N. L. Griggs; treasurer, J. J. Kline; trustees, D. Schoonover, J. H. Horn, G. R. Snydam, W. Schoonover, G. Shaw, property clerk, P. H. Weimer; foreman, M. H. Horn; first assistant, P. H. Weimer; second assistant, W. Schoonover; pipe men, D. Schoonover, H. Brown, W. S. Kressler; engineer, E. Page; stoker, N. L. Griggs; driver, E. L. Mayer.

ANNUAL INSTITUTE SOCIAL.
It Was Held at Siegel's Academy Last Evening.

No more pleasant social event has been held in Siegel's Academy this season than the evening of the annual social of the Central City Council of the Young Men's Institute, and drew together a merry party of young people from this city and its vicinity. Professor Sarr furnished the music for the carefully arranged programme of dances and John J. Nallin was master of ceremonies.

The pleasure of all present was looked after by a reception committee consisting of M. F. Brown, H. J. Butler, John Gibbons, T. H. McQuinn, M. T. Howell, P. H. Gilleran, J. J. Scott, James McDonald, M. J. O'Boyle, Dr. F. L. McGraw, Dr. J. F. Saitry, Attorney R. J. Murray, Attorney M. A. McGinley and John H. Jordan.

The committee in charge of the dances was E. H. Jordan, O. M. Miller, James Clifford, Frank McDonald, John J. Coyne, James Gannon, J. Coleman, John Banks, James Flynn, M. E. Hanley, R. J. Murray, P. J. O'Reilly, James McCarthy, Joseph J. McNally, T. J. White and Peter Snyder.

REV. RALPH GILLAM AT DUNMORE.
B. F. Mills' Assistant to Begin a Series of Evangelistic Meetings.

The evangelistic services to begin in Dunmore for Presbyterian church tomorrow morning promise to be of great interest to all who may attend. Rev. Ralph Gillam, the assistant of B. F. Mills, will conduct the services. Mr. Bronson, well known to many persons of Scranton as a good soloist, will accompany Mr. Gillam in his work. A special invitation is extended to all.

ARGUING INJUNCTION CASES.

The City and Scranton Gas and Water Company Given a Hearing Before Judge Gunster.

Judge Gunster yesterday afternoon in chambers listened to arguments on rules for restraining the preliminary injunctions obtained by the city of Scranton against the Scranton Gas and Water company and the Scranton Gas and Water company against the city of Scranton. City Solicitor Torrey appeared for the city and ex-Justice Alfred Hand and Attorney I. H. Burns for the company.

The matter at issue is the power of the city to pass an ordinance defining the manner in which the company shall lay its pipes. The ordinance provides that before opening any street the company shall obtain a permit from the street commissioner. If it is passed street deposit a sufficient sum of money with the city treasurer to enable the street commissioner to repair the pavement.

The company opened a street in violation of the ordinance and was enjoined by the city. Another injunction enjoined the city from interfering with the company in opening streets which is a right said to be granted to it by its charter.

Mr. Torrey made the first argument. He said that it was necessary for public safety to have regulations with regard to the opening of highways to make improvements and that such regulations have to be general. He did not deny the charter rights of the company, but held that the ordinance does not contravene these rights, the ordinance having been passed in conformity with the police powers granted to municipalities by the legislature.

All legislation granting charter privileges, he held, has the implied reservation that the privileges are subject to reasonable police regulation. The city had to pass a general ordinance with regard to the regulations prescribed and could not pass one for the Gas and Water company and another for other companies and individuals. The permit is required that the street commissioner may know what streets are being opened and in what condition they are left after the improvements are completed.

Mr. Burns argued that by the terms of the Gas and Water company's charter, the city was debarred from imposing such restrictions as are set forth in its ordinance. He declared that the city had no right whatever to compel the company to obtain a permit every time it wanted to open a street and pay money into the city treasury to enable the street commissioner to do work that its own skilled men could perform in a satisfactory manner.

The company would not object to reasonable regulations, but that ordinance was not what it purported to be, a regulating ordinance, since it does not attempt to regulate. The taking out of a permit he said was not a regulation for the very word permit signified the granting of a right from a superior to an inferior power.

Ex-Justice Hand said that the charter of the company gave it great powers, but they were necessary to carry out the purposes of its incorporation. If the company fails to perform in a proper manner its duties in connection with the laying of its pipes the city might have an action against it to compel it to do so, but by its ordinance it is endeavoring to shift the responsibility of seeing that the streets are properly repaired after excavations are made by the company from the shoulders of the company onto its own. The pipes have to be repaired all hours of the day and night, and it would be burdensome, the speaker said, to compel the company to have to seek the street commissioner whenever it is necessary to open a street for any purpose.

Judge Gunster reserved the decision.

After Swearing Off.
How many have taken vows of abstinence with the birth of the new year is perhaps hard to estimate, but we now show that the effort is a futile against inveterate habit, a habit which has become a disease. There was a time when it would have been easy to quit, but having neglected to do so the habit continued until by the constant or frequent use of the poison there was forced a change in the nervous system which made it not only possible to drink, but necessary. Then you could drink a good deal and not seem to get drunk, but you also found it necessary to keep you feeling good and you "graved liquor" because you had become diseased. Now that swearing off does no good and the pledge can't be kept, go and make your resolution good for all time by taking treatment at the Keeley Institute, 726 Madison avenue, Scranton, Pa.

NEWPLYMOUTHCHURCH

The Building is Completed and Ready for Dedication Tomorrow.

COMMITTEE HAS ACCEPTED IT

An Excellent Description of the New Congregational House of Worship on the West Side—The Auditorium Will Have a Seating Capacity of Five Hundred.

The new and magnificent building of the Plymouth Congregational church on Jackson street between Main and Hyde Park avenue, is completed and will be formally dedicated tomorrow. The church building committee met Architect John A. Duckworth and the contractor, William R. Williams, in the auditorium of the church yesterday afternoon and accepted the building as completed.

The dimensions of the building are 30 by 80 feet with an auditorium on the western side of 10 by 32 feet. The tower on the northwest corner is 18 by 13 feet and is 75 feet high. There is also a small square tower on the corner which is 11 by 13 feet and 50 feet in height. Between these towers is a large portion, by which the visitor enters through two massive oak doors leading to the auditorium and gallery. The vestibule is covered with inland linoleum.

Will seat five hundred. The interior of the auditorium room is 43 by 65 feet with a seating capacity of 500. There is also a gallery between the towers which has a seating capacity of fifty. In the eastern tower leading from the gallery is a very cozy room for committee meetings, very neatly furnished. In the auditorium on the western side is the choir platform with a seating capacity of thirty-three, adjoining which is the pulpit platform two feet high, extending into the auditorium in a circular form.

Adjoining the pulpit platform is the pastor's study, a room 9 by 12, neatly finished in oak. The auditorium is finished in ash. The pews are set in a circular form and are of a very handsome design, upholstered with plush of quartered oak. The windows are all of stained glass of pretty design. On the eastern side of the building is a very large circular window representing the landing of the Pilgrims on Plymouth rock in the year 1620. On the front window is a scene representing Christ and the two disciples on their way to Emmaus. On the western side is a pretty window representing a descending dove. The auditorium is covered with carpet of an attractive design.

The building is heated with hot air, and is lighted with gas. In the centre is a large chandelier with thirty-seven lights, while scattered about the building are eighteen brackets with three lights each, making a total of fifty-four side lights.

A HANDSOME PULPIT.
The pulpit is a very handsome design, in quartered oak handsomely hand carved. In the rear of the pulpit stand two large oak chairs beautifully upholstered, while in front of the pulpit stands the communion table of oak and of a very substantial pattern with two chairs on each side. The chairs are the same pattern as the ones on the platform.

The church building committee consists of Thomas Eynon, chairman; Walter Wilkins, secretary; M. P. Daniels, treasurer; T. E. Reynolds, A. E. Eynon, Richard Owens, T. D. Evans, David Richards, Jr., Arthur G. Lewis, T. W. Phillips, W. J. Morgan, Elias E. Evans, S. B. Powell and James Carpenter.
